Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

Group I, claims 66 and 68-103, drawn to a method of controlling a condition of a suspension.

Group II, claims 67-103, drawn to a method of controlling consolidation of a bed.

The inventions listed as Groups I-II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, a special technical feature which these claims share does not define a contribution over the prior art. For example, the claims of Groups I and II share a stimulus as the special technical feature, which is considered to lack novelty or an inventive step in view of Guillet et al. (see col. 2 line 13 through col. 4 line 56).

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

Art Unit: 1797

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

A telephone call was made to Teddy C. Scott on 8/26/10 to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.
